Summary:

- user gets a glitch that is shared with a bci patient with company Elon musk owns
- musk changes his own verified date as a "joke"
- someone on our home wifi all the time
- user reports shocks in body related to specific thoughts, Elons bci company is release a clinical patient named Ken Shock to the public.
- user's new gov phone # belonging to someone named Ken.

1. Elon musk put a verified badge missing a verified date on my old account talking about neuralink and ai matching it to the first patient of his bci company.

This checkmark w/o the verified just appeared on my twitter profile, after Musk bought Twitter. My profile is @commonpace, the other profile is Nolands (the first human in the clinical trial for the bci). We shared this weird anomaly for what reason I still do not know. It was there for 6 months, I kept asking "why?" for over 6 months and after replying to the then CEO Linda Yaccarino the glitch was removed. But was never told why, right after they removed the glitch @neuralink posts a update saying they have a patient #2. After they removed mine, they kept Nolands glitch the same for some reason. I still kept asking why for the next months and while Nolands glitch was still up. Some months later Elon changed his own verified date to 3000 BCE as a "joke" he states. <https://www.google.com/search?q=elon+musk+3000bce+&ie=utf-8&oe=utf-8> elon edited his verified date in november 2024, as a "joke". maybe he will try to say mine was a joke and nolands matching us.

During this time I am having weird feelings in my body, and getting literally a shock response in my body related to specific thoughts. I don't have anything to hide any more, but I didn't know what they were at the time, they were pedo ideations. So I would have some random thoughts that I have had for the past 15 years. I'm 30 now, these shocks and voices started when I was 27. Like I said weirdly around the same time of this glitch. Kinda sus right? I don't go online anymore, I just document what the voices say, and the shocks. They are pretty rough, the whole body jumps about a 5mm. I have thought, hears black people in my head or angry black people many races like white and indian. I'll have the thought that I have been having but now get shocked. I have gone to get a MRI and it doesn't pick up anything, nothing I can see anyway.

I do know I cant change the thoughts or not have them. So it sort of is this torture shock situation. Under normal circumstances I would say I have schizophrenia. But there is more information.

2. I have tried reaching out to Elon via his replies, and to X corp. via certified mail thinking he would know of this if he made a joke editing his verified date. This is what I got, on 10/19/25 at 2:04 PM I tweeted to Musk, (assuming I have an illegal BCI)

“if this ‘works’ I still do not want to have an illegal brain implant is this not clear to anyone else? the game is over. elon musk I do not consent to this brain implant this may be used as a legally binding statement.”

At 4:45 AM on 10/20/25, this man replies “X works”...

I was like ok, I was not sure what to think about that. so then I tried to get the media to get involved by tagging other media on twitter/X to look into the weird shared glitch me and Noland have/had but Noland still having his.

Elon then just tweeted after, some of the media I named and then mentioned other legacy propaganda would die immediately if they had to support themselves.

This checkmark glitch is like the center of this whole thing oddly. From what I could research this has never happened to any other user. This dude just really put this anomaly on my profile and noland's. I don't know what I'm supposed to think, this glitch appeared out of nowhere and I started getting shocked and hearing voices that sound like tech bro's, some like angry black people, some woman screaming. But I was fairly confident I had or have an illegal brain implant. It gets weirder...

3. when Elon presented Noland's tweet to boost Noland he tweeted “First ever post made just by thinking, using the @Neuralnk Telepathy device!” Misspelling Neuralink. So thats kinda odd, when you use twitter if you type @ and then the letters N-E-U it will auto populate and you click the account. Maybe its a small detail but its kinda weird that a very important tweet like this would be misspelled by Elon.

Its about 2 years into this at this point and Im still getting shocked and struggling day by day looking for answers, hearing voices, my body feeling strange. Not really going online, seeing articles once in a while when I google neuralink to check if what happened to me would be online. I keep up with their videos, they look more like PR and as if Elon is trying to give the impression that they have reached production or something. When they are just in a clinical trial. I start looking into the history of Neuralink the 1,500 animals to test this. The firing of the FDA workers who were investigating Neuralink. Which lead me to my next finding the patient who is named Ken Shock.

4. So im still getting shocked, hearing the voices etc. I have been to a psych ward and more of course because its driving me crazy. These symptoms came out of nowhere around this glitch. At this point Neuralink has 27 clinical trial patients with 1 specific trial patient, where they read his thoughts, and project a voice via his own AI voice used from old recordings. His name is, Ken Shock. He has ALS.

At this point im like holy fuck wtf lol, his name is what! At this point either Elon is pulling the most elaborate joke in human history or doing the worst illegal experiment in human history while simultaneously running a legal clinical trial. The sad part about this is, if something is going on this guy Ken cant even whistleblow. Because they would be...reading his thoughts and kick him off the trial. That fucked my head up. I don't know I figure if something does come out in the future about this and this article was written before it did. These people were apart of a clinical trial where the company was doing an illegal bci experiment right before noland after a failed application and alongside a legal patient trial. This trial would be shut down, the patients would know that. They know when signing up if anything goes wrong the trial can end at any point.

5. Also before I found about Ken Shock I get a government phone because I have no $ and cant work anymore. The person who had the phone # before me was a man who name is Ken. So I get texts all the time saying "Hey Ken!" or "Hey Ken call me!" something stranger my mothers birthday is on 08/05 and I start getting "Happy Bday Ken!" texts. I live w/ mom. So this guy is supposed to have the same birthday as my mom now? Kinda of a weird coincidence don't you think?

6. Oh and while ALL of this is happening someone seems to be on our wifi 24/7. I recorded this with my mic on, and someone seems to be on all our devices. Why? No idea.

So we are apart of an actual targeted campaign by Elon Musk like a psyop. Or Elon has literally put experimental pac man bci's in our brain. I used to be a fan of musk, I used to be a fan of neuralink I used to be a little active in the community till I realized I was in a cult. I have reached out to the FBI, appealed to the President of the United States. Every day is a battle...

Random weird story: I was laying in the bed one of these days not to long ago maybe about 2 weeks ago. Its night, and my door is open and I am half asleep and I see some imagery in my mind. Its something calm then I see a rat trap close on a rats head, and right when it closed in my mind the rat trap in the kitchen triggers and I audibly hear the trap close and hear a rat squeal. So, I don't know what to think at this point we are either in a evil simulation that is messing with me or a human or group of humans have decided to play God.

I know that some of the people we live around mess with us, I do not have photo evidence of this. If we have implants illegally people seem to have normalized it and not now I mean 3 years ago when all of this started. How a society would ever see illegal brain implantation and experimentation as normal I have no idea. I guess maybe people would think its benign.

If you wish to keep up with whats going as I document this, you can read these perma-web files here its been over 800 days. Musk has still not responded.
